

PhD student George Maghlakelidze

The Saguramo-lalno ridge landscape characterization.

Anotation

The kolokvium deals with problem of rational use of natural resources in accordance to modern Geographical science Current activity, processing of the methodology of nature study and study of nature by this methodology, for the purposes of nature resources optimization and rational use. In the work phase the subject of our research was the characterization of the region. Study region is the Saguramo laloni Ridge, the former Martkopi physical Geographic stationary environs. The kolokvium work decided the following tasks. According on abstract materials and physical Geography and landscape research methods Saguramo-laloni range and his surrounding areas physical geographical characterization was conducted.